This e-book is free, and you may copy and print, and share it freely as you like. As long as you provide the source of where you can download it and the other e-books by Christian Schon at <http://ChristianSchon.com> or at <http://SwedeOnTour.Info>.

The book will be here shortly as soon as it becomes clear

I'm always looking for proofreaders to my e-books. As a proofreader means you always get to read my new e-books for free, and also long before they come out and have been published. You register by sending an e-mail to me at post (at) christianschon.com and writable "proofreader" in the title bar.

I always work with crowdfunding in all my projects. This means that the more you support and donate to a project, the more can I give back to you as supportive donor.

You as the donor will be a part of the exclusive group. As will have and get the chance to be those who can influence how and what you think will happen and be in their various projects.

Now just click the donate button here. Enter project name which you want to support as well as your email address, and any amount you want to donate. In return for the donation, you get to choose a completely optional e-book and you will get totally free from me.

How corporate sponsors can support the projects, go to my blogg and read this at <http://ChristianSchon.com> or <http://SwedeOnTour.Info>

Best regards
